

Waste cooking oil collection

to: edible_oils@fehd.gov.hk, wco_consultation@epd.gov.hk

24/9/2015 12:01

From:

To: <edible_oils@fehd.gov.hk>, <wco_consultation@epd.gov.hk>

Dear Sir/Madam,

We are an edible oil supplier.

Our clients are concerned about the proposed legislative change regarding waste cooking oil collection.

We seek the names of parties that are willing to pay and collect waste oil.

Our relationship with DPP has dwindled as he is unable to make any money from waste oil. We understand that the cost to convert waste oil to biodiesel is close to $6.50 cents/L whilst regular diesel is selling at $3.50/L. Given this situation, it appears that the lic. biodiesel refineries are not willing to pay above $20 /tin of waste oil (assume less than $2/L).

Plus given that the actual cost of a driver picking the waste oil up is mostly above $16/tin - the incentive to collect this waste oil is very low.

Could you please introduce us to any parties managing those drivers who are willing to collect waste edible oils.

Thank you very much.

Yours faithfully,

Enjoi HK Ltd.

Enjoi HACCP Frying Oil Solution

Affordable & Great Tasting Food

Healthy Oil Healthy Life